History & Genealogy

WWII & NYC: The Big Apple Goes to War

Tues., July 20 at 3 p.m.

New Yorkers did not suffer the devastation experienced by citizens of London, Moscow, Berlin, or Tokyo during World War II. But New York City was a center of activity and contributed disproportionately to the final victory. New York produced everything from battleships to brassieres and periscopes to penicillin, and more than three million troops and over 63 million tons of supplies passed through New York Harbor en route to the battlefield. In this interactive virtual presentation, hear little-known stories such as how a group of German saboteurs landed on Long Island only to take the LIRR in the wrong direction, and why a portion of the FDR Drive is built atop rubble from Bristol, England. Presented by The New-York Historical Society. Register for Zoom link beginning July 6.

LI Migrant Labor Camps:

Dust for Blood

Tues., July 20 at 7 p.m.

During World War II, a group of potato farmers opened the first migrant labor camp in Suffolk

County to house farmworkers from Jamaica. Over the next twenty years, more than one hundred camps of various sizes would be built throughout the region. Thousands of migrant workers lured by promises of good wages and decent housing flocked to Eastern Long Island, where they were often cheated out of pay and housed in deadly slum-like conditions. Preyed on by corrupt camp operators and entrapped in a feudal system that left them mired in debt, laborers struggled and, in some cases, perished in the shadow of New York's affluence. Join author Mark A. Torres in this virtual discussion of his book as he reveals the dreadful history of Long Island's migrant labor camps from their inception to their peak in 1960 and their steady decline in the following decades. Register for Zoom link beginning July 6. This program is a partnership with the public libraries in the Town of Huntington.

George Washington's Long Island Spy Ring

Thurs., July 22 at 7 p.m.

Author Bill Bleyer will discuss his new book, George Washington's Long Island Spy Ring. History buffs have long been fascinated by the operation of the Long Island-based Culper Spy Ring during the American Revolution, especially since the airing of the

AMC series "Turn."

Over the years, there have been many legends, such as the role played by Anna Strong's clothesline, and suppositions about how the spies operated to support George Washington's Continental Army. This PowerPoint lecture "The True Story of the Culper Spy Ring" separates facts from fiction and details the ingenious operation of the intelligence network that helped the Patriots win the war. Register for Zoom link beginning July 9.

DNA Testing Companies: Pros and Cons, Costs and Features

Wed., July 28 at 11 a.m.

Have you thought about doing DNA testing to find your family's story, but aren't sure where to start? Join Eric Migdal, owner of It's All Relative Genealogy, live on Zoom as he discusses DNA testing services. He will cover Y-DNA testing and mitochondrial DNA testing as well as autosomal testing. He will address the differences between the types of testing, pros and cons, data analysis, pricing and subscription costs. Register for Zoom link beginning July 8.
