

SOUTH HUNTINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

Calling All Book Lovers!

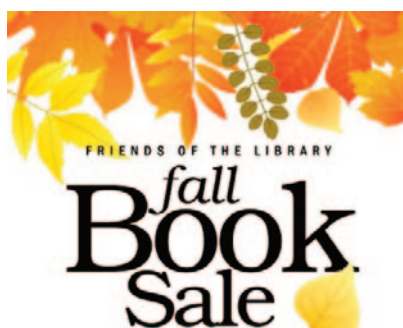

Sat., Nov. 4, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.
Sun., Nov. 5, 1-5 p.m.

The Friends of the Library will host their annual book sale. Bookworms of all ages will find something they like. Materials will include fiction, non-fiction, paperbacks, children's, young adult, DVDs and more.

See you there!

Please remember to bring your own reusable bag to take your purchases home.

Proceeds help the Friends support library programs and services.

International Games Day:

Sat. Nov. 18, 1-4 p.m.

Did you know that engaging in play can lower stress and contribute to emotional and mental development?

Join us on Saturday, Nov. 18, from 1-4 p.m. when patrons of all ages can play a variety of games around the library building.

There will be life-sized versions of classic games on the lower level, video games in the Young Adult Library, international games in the Children's Room and more.

November is International Games Month, when people all over the planet join together to celebrate the power of play and learning at libraries around the world. It is co-sponsored by the American Library Association.

Bring the whole family and let's have some fun!

Monday Movies

@ 2:00 p.m.

Nov. 6: Jules

Milton lives a quiet life of routine in a small western Pennsylvania town, but finds his day upended when a UFO and its extra-terrestrial passenger crash land in his backyard. Before long, Milton develops a close relationship with the extra-terrestrial he calls "Jules." Things become complicated when two neighbors discover Jules and the government quickly closes in. What follows is a funny, wildly inventive ride as the three neighbors find meaning and connection later in life thanks to this unlikely stranger. Ben Kingsley, Jane Curtin. PG-13, 90 mins.

Nov. 13: Mission Impossible: Dead Reckoning Part I

Ethan Hunt and his IMF team embark on their most dangerous mission yet: To track down a terrifying new weapon that threatens all of humanity before it falls into the wrong hands. With control of the future and the fate of the world at stake, and dark forces from Ethan's past closing in, a deadly race around the globe begins. Confronted by a mysterious, all-powerful enemy, Ethan is forced to consider that nothing can matter more than his mission, not even the lives of those he cares about most. Tom Cruise, Hayley Atwell. PG-13, 163 mins.

Nov. 20: Golda

On October 6th, 1973, under cover of darkness, on Israel's holiest day and during the month of Ramadan, the combined forces of Egypt, Syria, and Jordan begin a surprise attack on the Sinai Peninsula and the Golan Heights. Outnumbered and outgunned, Israel's only female Prime Minister, Golda Meir, confronts the immediate, clear, and present danger of a ticking timebomb that she hoped never to face. Surrounded, isolated, and frustrated by the infighting of her all-male cabinet, with little hope of rescue, one woman is in a race against time to save millions of lives on both sides of the conflict. Helen Mirren, Liev Schreiber. PG-13, 100 mins.

Nov. 27: Past Lives

Nora and Hae Sung, two deeply connected childhood friends, are wrest apart after Nora's family emigrates from South Korea. Two decades later, they are reunited in New York for one fateful week as they confront notions of destiny, love, and the choices that make a life, in this heartrending modern romance. Greta Lee, Teo Yoo. PG-13, 105 mins.

Alfred Van Loen Gallery

'Ever-changing Seasons: A Study of Fall and Winter,' Paintings by Janet Fink & Nancy Wernersbach.
Nov. 10, 2023 – Jan. 11, 2024. Artists' Reception:
Sat., Dec. 2, 2-4 p.m.

As we welcome the approaching embrace of fall and winter, artists find there is unique beauty and positivity that inspires the soul, despite the weather's somber tones. Artists Janet Fink and Nancy Wernersbach share their exploration of these seasons through their distinctive perspectives, a vivid color palette, and masterful techniques.

Both artists are inspired by the light and color that surrounds them. "My personal vision is to utilize a wide palette of colors to create and express inner feelings and to evoke feelings in the viewer about nature," says Janet. "A painting, like a good book, should take us out of one world and into another," says Nancy.

We invite you to discover the hidden charm of nature's graceful transition through these artists' creative lenses.

"First Snow" by Janet Fink (top), and "Autumn Blaze" by Nancy Wernersbach.

Art Gallery Page Offers Virtual Tours

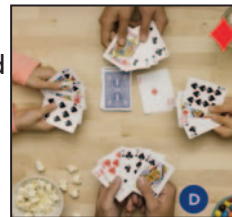

The library's Alfred Van Loen Gallery hosts monthly art exhibits, which can be viewed online through a virtual tour on our website. Promoting Public Libraries

School Nights

Our librarians have been attending the school district's curriculum nights this fall. We always love to see parents and school staff and bring them up to speed about what's going on in the library and how we can help their students succeed. We also signed people up for library cards.

Services for the Homebound

Our library has been offering homebound services to patrons for more than 20 years. The program is designed to provide library materials to residents of South Huntington Public Library who are physically unable to come to the library. This includes patrons who live in a nursing or assisted care facility in the South Huntington School District. Books and other materials will be selected for you, and delivered to your place of residence every Thursday by one of our volunteers. You can request specific items or let librarian Martha choose materials for you. Apply for homebound services by calling Martha at 631-549-4411 ext. 255, or fill out the online application at www.shpl.info>Services>Homebound.

All About Tech

To SIM or Not to SIM

Bringing your smartphone abroad can lead to expensive roaming charges. An alternative is to get an unlocked phone and use local SIM cards in each destination. This allows you to access cheaper local rates. Here's what you need to know about using SIM cards for international travel.

When it comes to getting a travel phone, there is no need to get the latest and greatest smartphone (unless you want to, of course). Reliable travel phones can regularly be found for less than $100. Whatever your price point, the key feature you are looking for with a travel phone is for it to be 'unlocked'. An unlocked phone is a phone that's not associated with a particular phone carrier. The benefit of this is that you can easily switch between phone carriers. For our purposes, this also means you can easily swap out the SIM card.

A SIM card is a tiny memory chip inserted into a smartphone that allows the phone to connect to a phone carrier's network. For example, a Verizon SIM card is what allows your phone to connect to Verizon's network. With an unlocked phone, you can enter in the SIM card of a local phone company from your destination country and take advantage of local pricing for talk, text, and data.

Prepaid SIM cards are usually available to purchase in your destination country's airport; but, if you feel comfortable venturing out and away from tourist areas and the airport, you can potentially find them even cheaper in local stores. Going to multiple countries? Just swap out the SIM card in each new destination country.

An alternative to physical SIM cards are eSIM. eSIM is a digital SIM card that you can download to your device. It is a newer technology so not all devices support this function; but, for those that do, getting a foreign SIM card can be as easy as downloading an app, choosing the price that's best for you, and following the instructions they provide. Some popular eSIM card companies include Airalo, Holafly, Nomad, Simify, and Drimsim, but there are many others so it is worth it to do some research and compare.

Depending on the length of your trip, using a SIM card from your destination country can save you money but it is always worth doing the math and considering the risks. Will you be doing activities or going somewhere there is a high potential for losing or damaging your phone? Is the international pricing from your phone carrier high? If the answer to those questions is yes, you might benefit from using different SIM cards with an unlocked device.

Costume Collectors

Huntington area libraries recently collected Halloween costumes to be distributed to community service organizations, including Tri-CYA. Pictured (from left) are Kim, Harborfields Library; Jen, South Huntington; Corinna, Half Hollow Hills; Debbie Rimler, Tri-CYA; Mary, Harborfields; Elizabeth, South Huntington; Laura, Huntington; and Jess, Elwood

Drive-up Donation Drive for Veterans
Tues., Nov. 7, 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

South Huntington Girl Scouts will be collecting non-perishable food and personal care items (soap, toothpaste, shampoo, deodorant, etc.) for veterans. Donated items will benefit Operation Enduring Care.

To participate, pull into the circle in front of the library, pop your trunk, and the scouts will collect your donations.

The Crayon Initiative

Do you have crayons in your house that you no longer use? Donate them to The Crayon Initiative to keep them out of landfills and brighten the day of a hospitalized child.

Girls Empowerment Movement (GEM) of South Huntington is collecting the crayons, which will be delivered to The Crayon Initiative. A donation box is in the Children's Library.

The crayons will be melted down into new large, three-sided crayons that are donated to hospitalized children. Their unique design keeps them from rolling off hospital trays.
