

Group Discussion in the Adult Library (adopted 9/05)

One of the primary goals of the Library is to maintain an environment in the adult library where community residents can avail themselves of library resources in a serene setting.

In accordance with the Use of the Library rules, posted in the lobby of the Library, extended conversation between two or more people in the adult library is prohibited.

There are designated areas where extended conversation between two or more people is acceptable. Those areas include the adult reading terrace, the outdoor garden and the tables in the lower level lobby adjacent to the vending area. Additionally there are other spaces in the Library that may be made available for such purposes. The use of these spaces requires the approval of the Librarian-in-Charge.
